This Week's Newsletter 14.12.18

This has been a very busy week with the Christmas performances. The children thoroughly enjoyed performing their shepherd sketch and were absolutely brilliant – well done year 5!! We hope you enjoyed the concert as well!! Most of this week has been take up with concerts but we have managed to squeeze some work in!!

In literacy the children have been identifying homophones linked to our topic on 'space' and have written descriptions of friendly monsters.

In numeracy the children have been learning how to use a protractor to measure a range of different angles.

In topic the children have created '2019 calendars' on themes of their own choice.
