This Week's Newsletter 8.3.19

Welcome back – I hope you all enjoyed the brief bit of sun over the half term holiday! The children have come back to school really motivated and determined, which has been great to see. This week has been very busy, with lots of different events taking place.

On Wednesday, the children celebrated the Eisteddfod and performed their raps and class song really confidently and with great expression. On Thursday afternoon the children worked with an illustrator, Suzanne Carpenter, in Cowbridge Library. Suzanne talked to them about some of her 'under the water' illustrations and then the children were given the opportunity of creating their own under the water scenes. Suzanne was very impressed with their creativity! Mr. Jones and Mr. Winwood kindly took the children, as I have been suffering with an ankle injury. The children also had defibrillator training and asked really sensible and thoughtful questions during the session.

We have managed to squeeze in a Big Write this week, with the children writing their suspense 'Alma' story. We have also started our playscript writing journey, with the children reading a playscript and identifying the key ingredients. In Maths, we have explored ratio and proportion and have solved word problems using ratio.

Class Attendance for last week:

The Growth Mindset homework has been fantastic – thank you for such creative ideas. We have loved sharing our 'brains' with each other! The homework for this week is to find polygons. The children can also complete their presentations if they haven't already. Have a great weekend, Mrs Millard and Mrs Heald
